RE: County Health Rankings

Release Date: March 20, 2013

OSCEOLA COUNTY IS GETS HEALTHIER

Each year since 2010, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the University of Wisconsin's Population Health Institute have released the annual County Health Rankings. Counties in each of the 50 states are ranked according to summaries of a variety of health measures. Those having high ranks (e.g. 1 or 2) are considered to be the "healthiest." Counties are ranked relative to the health of other counties in the same state. The 2010 County Health Rankings painted a troubling picture for the counties of central Michigan. Of the 82 Michigan counties evaluated, 6 central Michigan counties fell in the bottom half on health outcomes, and 3 of the 6 counties were ranked in the bottom 10 counties. In 2010 Osceola County was ranked 45 of the 82 counties in Michigan that were ranked. The new rankings paint a great picture for Osceola County, ranking in at 34!

Why the improvement? Since the Rankings were release in 2010, the Central Michigan District Health Department embarked on the Together We Can initiative, an effort to improve the overall health of the more than 196,000 people within its health district; which includes the central Michigan counties of Arenac, Clare, Gladwin, Isabella, Osceola, and Roscommon. The primary strategy of the health improvement effort was to engage the community both as a whole and within each county with a call to action. In 2011 Osceola County began their Health Improvement workgroup, which has been working to improve the health rankings for the community.

According to CMDHD's Health Officer, Mary Kushion, "This is an immense success for the Osceola HIP workgroup. With partners that include representation from all over the community, this workgroup has certainly made headway." The group and its partners have planned activities that range from a community garden at Reed City High school to open community walking events.

The County Health Rankings will be discussed at The 4th Annual Public Health Summit on April 8th, at The Comfort Inn in Mt. Pleasant. The event is free and will feature Lt. Governor Brian Calley, Dr. Craig Thomas from The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and Melissa Kesterson, a community garden coordinator. For more information please contact Allison Dunn at (989)773-5921 ext. 8413. We do ask that each person bring a fresh fruit or vegetable to be donated to local food banks.

If you would like an opportunity to get involved to improve the health of Osceola County consider joining Together We Can or The Clare-Gladwin Health Improvement Planning workgroup.
